Prospective dual M.H.Sc./D.H.Sc. students are selected by the Committee on Admissions, which considers the overall qualities of applicants and their suitability for this course of study. Areas of consideration include application content, academic record, prior health care experience, letters of evaluation, and personal motivation. In special circumstances, a personal interview with members of the Committee on Admissions may be required.

1. Prior to matriculation, applicants must have completed a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university.
2. Applicants should have earned a cumulative bachelor's degree G.P.A. at or above a 3.0 on a 4.0 scale to be eligible for regular admission.
3. Prior health care experience is required and is strongly considered in the admissions process. The dual M.H.Sc./D.H.Sc. is a postprofessional degree designed for health practitioners from a wide variety of disciplines, public health professionals, and health care administrators. The commonality exhibited by our students is the expert practice of a recognized health occupation at a professional level or five years of professional-level administrative experience in a health care organization with progressively increasing responsibilities over that time frame. The successful applicant's health profession may emphasize delivery of services to individual clients (e.g., PA, PT, R.N., LCSW) or be population based (Public Health or Health Administration). An appropriate level of professional practice is generally recognized by either health professions licensure (e.g., R.N., PT, PA), a national certification or registration (e.g., PA-C, RVT, RRT, FACHE), a recognized health professions academic credential (e.g., B.S.N.), or a combination of the above.
4. The successful administrative applicant will demonstrate at least five years of professional experience with increasing levels of responsibility in a health care setting. Professional experience will be documented by an organizational chart demonstrating the applicant's position within the organization and a letter of recommendation from a supervisor attesting to the applicant's level of responsibility within the organization. Health care administrators will also need to submit a statement concerning their career and professional goals within the health care environment. Fellowship or certification by a recognized health certifying body (e.g., FACHE) is desirable. Possession of a bachelor's degree is also necessary.

All questions regarding the appropriateness of an applicant's qualifications for admission can be discussed with the department chair or program director on an informal basis, but the official recommendations are made by the Committee on Admissions to the dean of the College of Health Care Sciences, who makes the final determination.

5. All applicants must show evidence of computer skills, through coursework or self-study, prior to the end of the first term. Students may obtain instruction through the NSU Student Microcomputer Laboratory, the Orientation Center, or other training facilities.
6. Applicants must take the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) and submit their scores (taken within five years of the date of matriculation) with their application documents.

DUAL-DEGREE MASTER OF HEALTH SCIENCE/
DOCTOR OF HEALTH SCIENCE

This accelerated dual-degree program is designed for accomplished, motivated health care practitioners educated at the bachelor's level who desire a clinically applicable, postprofessional interdisciplinary doctoral degree.

The program is specifically appropriate for those practitioners who have a strong desire to teach within the health disciplines at the graduate level or assume advanced professional and institutional leadership roles within the health care delivery system.

The combined M.H.Sc./D.H.Sc. provides rigorous academic exposure to a wide range of topics pertinent to clinicians, health administrators, and health professions educators, including epidemiology, health care finance, statistics and research methods, conflict resolution, leadership studies, professional writing, health policy, global health issues, evidence-based medicine, medical informatics, and medical quality assurance/risk management. Students have the opportunity to engage in internships within their home community and capstone research experiences.

Graduates are equipped with the knowledge, skills, and experience to expand their professional roles in both clinical and nonclinical arenas. Study is primarily nonresidential and utilizes state-of-the-art online course platforms that permit synchronous and asynchronous learning experiences.

Students are required to attend two one-week on-campus institutes during the doctoral portion of their studies.

This accelerated track permits the motivated student to earn both a master's and doctoral degree, with 82 credits, from a respected, regionally accredited research institution within three–seven years of study.

FINANCIAL AID STATEMENT

The primary financial responsibility for a student's education rests with the student and his or her family, but economic circumstances for some families may make it necessary for the student to obtain assistance from other sources.

The purpose of the Student Financial Aid Program at Nova Southeastern University is to help as many qualified students as possible to complete their health professions education. Various loans, scholarships, and grants are available to qualified students to help ease the high cost of a health professions education. These financial assistance programs are described in a variety of separate university publications. For information on financial assistance, contact
