

PHT 6906: Clinical Internship Orientation

This course will include all final preparation necessary for the students to begin their Clinical Internship series.

Although orientation does not include experiences in the clinic, it provides the non-patient oriented tools and theory necessary to successfully complete the final full-time senior clinical education experiences.